St Mark's Gospel this week, about Jesus calming the storm, reminded us that in times of trouble in our lives, we can turn to Jesus and ask for his help. We considered too how we can ask Jesus for help in working to our school values. A pupil in year 5 wrote this prayer:

Dear God, Thank you for all our school values. Not just about ourselves but about others. Help me to be curious. Help me to challenge myself. Help me to be resilient. Help me to have integrity. Help me to be positive. Help me to be kind, be respectful, forgiving, encouraging and giving. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to live a life, Amen.

Several of our students will celebrate their First Holy Communion this Sunday – we hope their day will be very special for them as they receive this sacrament.

Mrs A M Black, Head of School

“We are not self-sufficient; by ourselves we flounder: we need the Lord, like ancient navigators needed the stars. Let us invite Jesus into the boats of our lives ”

- Pope Francis

In March last year, at the start of the first lockdown, Pope Francis reflected on the Gospel of Jesus calming the storm in his Urbi et Orbi speech (to the city and to the world). I include here a link to this reflection if any parents wish to read this as it fits so well with this week's Gospel.

Mass: This Tuesday is the Feast of St Peter and Paul – Mass will be available to the students virtually.
